1. A comprehensive long term Faculty Development Plan that highlights faculty scholarships, research/fellowship activities, training and seminars, is suggested to be developed, approved and implemented.	The holistic support for the continuous development of BSP faculty members to help them achieve their full potential as effective facilitators of learning consist of the following components with the corresponding activities to accomplish the objectives: professional development, community development, research development, personal values and socio-cultural development and specialized training. As a result, the BSP faculty members have shown exemplary commitment to their own development. Faculty members with Regular/Permanent status are authorized to attend conventions, local and international conferences on official time with registration fee, actual transportation and daily travel expenses borne by the University as part of their incentives. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Faculty members are highly encouraged to regularly attend training, seminars and conventions for continuous professional development.</li> <li>The University grants scholarships for Faculty members who wish to enroll in the Graduate School program i.e., Master of Arts in Psychology and PhD in Psychology.</li> </ul>	100%	CHAIRPERSON'S DEVELOPMENT PLAN - Google Drive THESIS/DISSERTATION GRANT - Google Drive FACULTY DEVELOPMENT - Google Drive

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• THESIS/DISSERTATION GRANT as per Memorandum Order No.13, Series of 2020 is also being offered by the university.</li> </ul>
2. The BS Psychology faculty is an aging population and there is a need to employ new and young professionals. Hence, there is a need to review the policy regarding the remuneration of part-time faculty members, which seems to be low compared to other SUCs. This may help to attract young and qualified faculty to join the workforce.	Licensed Psychologists and Psychometricians were hired as Faculty members of the PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT.	100%	BIONOTE - Google Drive
3. Faculty members are encouraged to produce more instructional materials for their students.	From the year 2020 to 2021, forty-two (42) faculty members of the Department of Psychology were engaged in the development of various Instructional Materials (IMs) for the use of students during and post-COVID-19 pandemic. The IMs were made pursuant to the Memorandum Order No. 30, Series of 2020 and were initially intended for use in flextel (mixed online and correspondence modes of learning) classes.	100%	List of Faculty with produced IMs:  LIST OF FACULTY with produced IMs - Google Drive Produced Instructional Materials:  INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS - Google Drive

	However, even as we slowly begin to transition to onsite classes, said IMs are updated so that they may continue to be used. The Department's faculty have developed twenty-three (23) IMs for the use of tertiary students (i.e., 1 general course subject and 22 Psychology course specific subjects), as well as eight (8) IMs for senior high school students (i.e., 2 general strand subjects and 6 Humanities and Social Sciences Strand specific subjects). Said IMs were duly inspected and approved by the University's Quality Assurance Center. Likewise, various members of the faculty have also assisted in the assembly and dissemination of the IMs. Presently, the faculty are encouraged to develop their own materials and references for use in their specific loads. The Department also plans to continue developing materials such as workbooks, modules, and manuals for the different subjects under the Psychology course.		Photos during assembly of IMs:  IM Assembly - Google Drive
